

Take a Moment. Take Action.

Easily avoided, more often simply ignored, the scope of homelessness in West Michigan reaches far beyond what most realize. The visible signs of abandonment and struggle warn of a systemic chain reaction occurring throughout our communities and social structures. There is, however, one possible solution: you. It starts by taking a moment to understand not just the lives but the issues that impact us all. Ultimately, it then takes action. And even the smallest actions can help us take a person off the street, heal substance abuse, and give new meaning and faith to fellow lives once considered lost.
